

Combat Swimmer Oxygen

Combat swimmers use oxygen rebreathers at shallow depths usually no deeper than 10 msw. The mission may be to place explosive charges on enemy shipping or to conduct a reconnaissance of the shoreline prior to amphibious landings.

The correct equipment is essential for the success of these missions and Divex can provide all the ancillary diving equipment needed for such operations.

■ LIFE JACKET

Designed for use with chest worn oxygen rebreathers. This life jacket allows the diver to routinely adjust his buoyancy while diving and will also provide positive buoyancy whilst on the surface.

ORDER CODE: MF022

■ REBREATHER COMMS INTERFACE

Unique Adaptor to permit rebreathers to be used with divers through water communications systems. Excellent performance up to 3000 meters. For details request separate 3000m Diver's Through Water Communications datasheet.
